Advanced Practice Grand Rounds

Determination of decision-making capacity

Sharon Demeter practiced as a psychotherapist for more than a decade before she became a certified nurse midwife. She earned her Master of Arts Clinical Psychology at York University, Canada, and Master of Science in Nursing at UC San Francisco. She is in the process of acquiring her Post-Master's Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner at UC San Francisco while she serves as the assistant director of the Master Entry Program in Nursing at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at UC Davis.

Her clinical research and interest include Type II violence mitigation, mood disorders, PTSD, trauma-informed care, perinatal mood disorders and physiologic birth.
