

Our speaker:

Kelly Grady is a master's prepared nurse working with the transitions of care Program to operationalize discharge calls. The transitions of care program coordinates efforts among the work groups and moves strategic objectives to the operational level. Discharge calls are conducted within 72 hours post-discharge to identify issues and barriers quickly after discharge related to their General condition, questions about medications and the follow up plan of care. Between 40-60% of patients typically need assistance. The results of their first year old calls will be presented.
